New Business Playing a Role of Departure and it's the Future

By definition, any new business will start a new venture, but rarely can we see a new business as playing the role of Departure, let alone the leading to the Future.

Today, it is my honor to present VUNG TAU ROYAL PARK, a new concept combining business and preservation of nature.

The challenge is not only to preserve the natural flora of the sand dunes which act as a natural windshield. We are undertaking the big job to convert the fragile sand dunes into a beautiful park, bringing people together to enjoy the charm of nature.

Starting with raising awareness to preserve the ecological environment, the project endeavors to help with education of lifestyles through gardens for the future generations.
