1. Our Understanding

- Gender Mainstreaming

  #13 Women's empowerment and their full participation on the basis of equality in all spheres of society, including participation in the decision-making process and access to power, are fundamental for the achievement of equality, development and peace;

  - Beijing Declaration, Fourth World Conference on Women (1995)

- Gender Budgeting

  Gender-responsive budgeting is not about creating separate budgets for women, or solely increasing spending on women’s programmes. Rather gender-responsive budgeting seeks to ensure that the collection and allocation of public resources is carried out in ways that are effective and contribute to advancing gender equality and women’s empowerment.

  - UNUFEM

2. Our Scheme

- The Basic Act for a Gender-equal Society (Law No. 78 of 1999)
  - The Basic Act lays out the five pillars (basic principles) relating to the formation of gender-equal society.
  - It clarifies the roles of the public administration (the state and local governments) and citizens, i.e., the responsibilities and basic policies.

- Basic Plan for Gender Equality (2000, 2005)
  - The Cabinet approved the Basic Plan for Gender Equality (1st plan in 2000, 2nd plan in 2005), as plans based on the Basic Act for a Gender-equal Society.

Monitoring and Gender Impact Assessment and Evaluation

[Purpose]
- Studies and deliberates whether the Basic Plan for Gender Equality is being steadily implemented in each ministry and agency, as well as on government measures and other matters affecting the formation of a gender-equal society

[Reports published in 2009]
3. Our Example

3-1 Gender Impact Assessment

- The relative poverty rate of women is higher than that of men in most age groups
- The disparity widens as they age
3. Our Example

- Higher poverty rates, particularly in aged single women and mother-child families

- Transmission of poverty to the next generation observed in mother-child families
3. Our Example

- Problems in mother-child and father-child households

Source: “National Survey on Mother-Child and Other Households“(2006) by the Ministry of Health, Labor and Welfare
Note: The total excludes the number of household that responded “no answer”.
3. Our Example

- Employment rate and income – Mother-child households

<table>

3-2 Policy Report

- Measures for Stabilizing Employment
  - Strengthen the ban on gender discrimination stipulated in the Equal Employment Opportunity Law.
  - Provide a safety net (unemployment insurance, social insurance, and so on) for non-regular worker
  - Realize equal remuneration in respect of work of equal value

- Support for independence of single-parent households
  - Provide comprehensive support for mothers in single-parent households
  - Address the isolation of father-child households in local community

- Breaking the chain of living difficulties to the next generation
  - Support continued employment and re-employment of women.
  - Take measures to reduce the burden of education costs.
Thank you!
