

Could it be?

Have you ever noticed someone like this around you?

- 1 Several women living together in a small apartment room are picked up by a van every day and brought back home at midnight. They seem not to be allowed to go out on their own.
- 2 Several foreigners are working at a factory. They seem to be working long hours every day, while getting yelled at. One of the workers does not seem to be getting medical care, despite suffering a serious injury to his/her leg.
- 3 A young girl gets out of a car driven by a man and enters a hotel. There are marks on her face suggesting that she has been beaten.
