

4. Support for Women's Health throughout Their Lifetimes

■ Support for Women's Maternity Health

● Provision of comprehensive maternal and child health services from pregnancy to delivery

The Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare further promotes measures to provide medical services, including medical check-ups and health counseling and guidance services, from pregnancy to delivery, for daily life. The Ministry also systematically implements “Healthy Parents and Children 21” – a national campaign for maternal and child health in the 21st Century – to improve maternal and child health services.

● Infertility counseling services

The Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare promoted a plan to set up counseling centers specializing in infertility, under the Child and Child Rearing Support Plan, to provide multidimensional information / counseling services to infertile couples, so they could make their own decisions based on accurate and appropriate information as to how they should address the issue. The Ministry also promotes research and studies on fertility treatments. The Government Subsidized Project is also being implemented to subsidize part of the expenses for fertility treatment for infertile couples, which can be expensive.

● Increasing perinatal care

The Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare is setting up comprehensive perinatal maternal medical centers that will serve as the core of perinatal medical services, and regional perinatal maternal medical centers to support those core centers, so that high-risk pregnant women and newborns are properly provided with advanced treatment. It is also working to ensure collaborative systems with regional childbirth facilities. Also, Japan Drug Information Institute in Pregnancy set up in 2005 in the National Center for Child Health and Development collects and evaluates the latest evidence about the safety of medication during pregnancy and provides evidence-based information to women and health care professionals.

● Disseminating information to prevent ill-considered abortions

The Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare implements measures to disseminate information about the physical and psychological effects of abortion on women and about safe abortions, to prevent ill-considered abortions. The Ministry also supports efforts to disseminate information about contraception to allow women to voluntarily use contraceptives.

■ Measures against HIV/AIDS

● Implementation of comprehensive measures against HIV/AIDS from prevention to treatment

The Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare systematically implements comprehensive measures against HIV/AIDS to prevent HIV infection and provide medical treatment appropriate patients with diseases, while giving consideration to the human rights of AIDS patients and HIV infected persons as well as social backgrounds, under the “Guidelines for AIDS Prevention” (No. 21 announcement by the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare in 2012) which was established by the Act on Prevention of Infectious Diseases and Medical Care for Patients Suffering Infectious Diseases (Act No.114 of 1998), and conducts annual assessment on the implementation of the measures.

● Promotion of measures against problems that jeopardize health

The Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology continues to work to improve AIDS education in schools through activities such as creating and distributing to junior and senior high school students educational health awareness materials that comprehensively explain problems such as sexually transmitted diseases.

■ The Major Services on Maternal and Child Health

○ State-aid projects ● Projects covered by general finances ※1 Comprehensive support measures for maternal and child health care services
※2 Projects covered by the subsidy for Support for Raising the Next Generation in Japan