

Good practices on Women's entrepreneurship in community in the process of post-disaster reconstruction

By

Ravadee Prasertcharoensuk

Director

Sustainable Development Foundation (SDF)

Ban Chong Fern Community

- Prayoon District
- Pattalong Province

Live of women in fishing community

Small Scale Fisher Folk Community

Women in Fishing community

- House hold Activities.
- Community Activities.
- Policies planning and development

Women inclusion for community Reconstruction

Community Fishing Market

- Women-led cooperative initiated .
- Those who were interested pooled their money together to buy “share” to be used as an investment to buy fish products from members or non-members.
- Benefits are used for employ women running activities.
- Welfare for members.
- Support for Conservation activities.
- Return benefit back to members.

Community fishing market

:food ,income and livelihood security

- Turned dependency relationship of small-scale fishers from solely relying on middlemen to an independent cooperative with bargaining power.
- Increased income for small-scale fishers.
- Demonstrated the capacity of women in managing community activity in an effective manner when their roles are appreciated and opportunities are opened for them to access capacity development as well as to financial support.
- Strengthen women groups and women leaders capacity
- Meaningful participation in community activities organized by either local administrative organization, government and other non-governmental organizations working in the community.
- Increased knowledge and skills in organization development especially on the aspect of collective decision making, community activity planning, accounting and financial management.

Lessons learned: Factors for success

- Value women inclusion .
 - Women are not only recipient but also an actor for community reconstruction.
- women action in Data collection.
- Community organizing.
- Use data to recovery planning
- Start from what they know,
Built on what they have .

Lessons Learned : Factors for success

Organization Development.

- each by showing ,learn by doing
- Establish rule and regulation. Recording, Financing
- Communicating : Monthly communication, ,problem solving reporting.

This will not only to create trust among members but will help as well in addressing business challenges

Capacity building and Human resource development .

- Skill development for those who on marketing activities.

Benefit demonstrated Women Empowerment.

- Action :reflection :learning.

Lessons learned: Factors for success

- Holistic approach in Community reconstruction:
Secured food and employment go hand-in-hand with conservation and rehabilitation activities.

Thank you.

